These doshas, which include Pitra Rin, Andha Tewa, Adha AndhaTewa, Manglik Dosha, and Kaal Sarpa Dosha, can have profound effects on different aspects of one's life, such as health, finances, relationships, and general well-being. It's crucial to seek remedies for these doshas to mitigate their negative impact. Remedies can range from specific rituals, offering prayers, making donations, wearing gemstones, to adopting lifestyle changes. If one of the ancestors has committed any evil or sinful deeds, it transforms into ancestral debt and must be paid off by a member of the family. That is why they suffer. Sometimes, we are mysteriously impacted by the sins of our elders in an unbelievable and astounding way. The implication is that someone else commits the crime, and another person pays the penalty. In the case of ancestral debt, the punishment is often borne by a close relative. The consideration of ancestral debts is done through the birth chart. Once the debt is recognized, its remedy also has to be performed by a blood relative. Ancestral debt cannot be paid off by another individual. Among blood relatives are included sisters, daughters, and their children like grandchildren, nephews, nieces, etc. According to Lal Kitab, humans bear nine types of debts based on the nine planets. These include self-debt, mother's debt, family debt, sister/daughter's debt, ancestral debt, women's debt, merciless debt, lifetime debt, and divine debt.
